Whether you're visiting for work or pleasure we've got you covered with the coolest locals-only tips!

EL CIERVO Y EL OSO

CRA. 10A # 69A - 16

After a long winter sleep, El Ciervo y el Oso awoke and reopened their restaurant in the Quinta Camacho neighborhood. You may wonder why their name would be "The deer and the bear" and the reason is because their menu is designed so both vegetarians and carnivores can happily share the same table. Chef Marcela Arango forms part of the new revolution of young Colombian chefs that seek to recover authentic ingredients from their region and to create an interesting and new type of modern Colombian cuisine. This place is definitely a must, its casual atmosphere combined with creative cocktails and amazing food really make it stand out from the crowd. INSIDER TIP Vegetarians should order the Cubios a la piedra which are Mashue tubers from the Andes region. For meat lovers I'd recommend the Tostadas cartageneras, trust me you won't regret it!

JUAN STUDIOS

CALLE 85 # 14-46 2ND FLOOR

Known as an always reinventing male fashion brand that combines culture, art and global trends, JUAN STUDIOS

relaunched their brand and opened a new flagship store in the middle of Bogota's shopping district. Designers Gustavo and Viviana Lozano are widely known to create "ready-to-wear" collections, characterized by a fierce amount of Rock'n'Roll. INSIDER TIP You should check out their first line of women's clothing consisting of minimalistic designs with black and pink tones under their new motto We Are One.

AMOR PERFECTO USAQUEN

CALLE 119B # 5-37

In the last few years, Amor Perfecto has become a renowned brand and as the country's first premium coffee roaster and comprehensive coffee solutions provider. Locals know this brand due to their heart shaped logo and cool packaging. Now they've opened a new coffee shop in the heart of Usaquen just a stroll away from the hotel. INSIDER TIP When you enter you will find "Union Libre", an ice cream shop tucked inside that joins coffee love with ice cream love. Can it get any better than this?

GRINGO CANTINA

CALLE 80 # 12A-29

As a part of Bogota's culinary revolution nowadays, you'll see more taquerias and Mexican eateries popping up around the city. Gringo Cantina is the new creation of Mike de Miguel, offering Mexican food with Californian influence, it's food is simple but oh so delicious. INSIDER TIP Don't hesitate to get the Tacos de Murrillo, which has slow-cooked meat for 12 hours, covered in chipotle sauce and crispy coleslaw.
